THE INVASION OF TIME

VIDEOGRAM EDIT SCRIPTS

In the summer of 1981, the regular Matrix Data Bank feature in issue 53 of Doctor Who Monthly addressed a question from reader, Alan Wakeman, as to whether the BBC had any plans to make Doctor Who available for sale on videotape.

The magazine's reply indicated that BBC Enterprises was only just beginning to look at the possibility of the home video market, but that one of the first titles that was being planned for future sale would be a 90-minute compilation of 'The Invasion of Time'.

Ultimately, no compilation version of 'The Invasion of Time' was ever released and publicly, it was never heard of again. It wouldn't be until October 1983 that 'Revenge of the Cybermen' became the first story to be made commercially available on VHS, Betamax and V2000 formats.

The parents of Alan Wakefield from Clapham, South London have recently bought a video tape recorder and Alan has asked if there are any video tapes of Doctor Who stories commercially available.

At present the answer is no. The video sales division of BBC Enterprises is only just getting under way and legal problems with copyright clearance are still to be overcome before popular programmes like Doctor Who and Faulty Towers may be sold. However, BBC Enterprises are confident agreement will not be far away and among the first batch of programmes to go on sale will be a one-and-a-half hour edited version of The Invasion of Time, the Sontaran story set on Gallifrey from 1978.

Although it never appeared, the reported compilation of 'The Invasion of Time' wasn't just wishful thinking or misreporting on the part of Doctor Who Monthly. It was a genuine planned project for the new video division of BBC Enterprises and indeed, editing work was carried out on the story in preparation for the release. The two-inch master videotapes created for this edit remained at the BBC for over 30 years, but they were seemingly disposed of when BBC Worldwide (the successor to BBC Enterprises) later thinned out their historic video assets in preparation for material to go into deep storage.

Although the edited videotapes evidently no longer exist, what has survived at the BBC's Written Archives are three, poor-quality, hard-copy scripts for Parts 2, 3 and 4 of the story, all of which are marked, "Videogram Edit". These scripts have been hand-annotated indicating which scenes or part-scenes were being considered for removal in the planned compilation. The scripts for Part 1, 5 and 6 are unmarked. The fact that these scripts only survive for three episodes of the story may signify that the plan was to reduce the Vardan part of the storyline by roughly half, whilst leaving the Sontaran conclusion relatively intact, thus making up the proposed 90-minute duration.

The archived "Videogram Edit" scripts for Parts 2-4 for this project are presented here for historic interest to indicate how the end result may have looked.

(ON 1C)

GOMER: And if you continue to argue legalities we may well have to go through this whole boring business again. In the very near future.

LEELA: He is going to die?

GOMER: He has retreated.

LEELA: Never! The Doctor is no coward!

GOMER: I mean retreated into himself. Some form of self-induced catatony. A simple defence reaction brought about by a sudden and unexpected attack upon his conscious mind.

(ALL THIS, OF COURSE, LEAVES LEELA NONE THE WISER)

BORUSA: There, you hear? An Attack.

GOMER: Oh have the kindness to be quiet, Borusa. The President needs peace and rest. And medical attention. I will supervise myself.

BORUSA: Take him to The Chancellory?

BORUSA: Your alien friend almost killed you. She openly attacked you. /

71) 1
M 2sh LEELA/DOC

LEELA: No; it was the crown. The crown was killing him.

(THE DOCTOR SITS UP, GINGERLY, AND LOOKS AROUND.
HIS GAZE FINALLY SETTLES ON LEELA)

THE DOCTOR: What's she doing here?

(2 next)

(ON 1)

LEELA: You brought me.

THE DOCTOR: Impossible. It's forbidden to bring aliens in.
Get rid of her.

CORRIDOR AND RUNS ALONG IT FOR ALL SHE IS WORTH.)

A GUARD APPEARS BEHIND HER, ONE OF THE TWO BODYGUARDS)

GUARD: Stop! Stop or I fire!

Stop!

(HE RAISES HIS STASER. AND FIRES. A WARNING SHOT.)

(POST GALLERY)

LEELA KEEPS GOING)

Stop!

THE OTHER GUARD ARRIVE)

Guard She go?

Guard She moved down there

ANDRED Right - get after her

(LEELA DISAPPEARS ROUND THE CORNER.
THE GUARDS RUN AFTER HER.)

ANDRED RAISES
HIS WRISTCOMMUNICATOR AND SPEAKS INTO IT)

ANDRED: (cont) This is Commander Andred. Sound the alarm, and turn out the guard. Escaped alien prisoner at large in the Citadel. Remake

(HE TURNS AND GOES BACK TOWARDS THE CHANCELLORY)

77)

5. INT. ANOTHER CORRIDOR..

(AS DIRECTED)

(LEELA RUNS ALONG, PASSING A PAIR OF ASTONISHED TIME LORDS WHO ARE WALKING ALONG
DEEP IN EARNEST CONVERSATION, LIKE TWO ANCIENT OXBRIDGE DONS.)

AT THAT MOMENT, THE ALARM STARTS SOUNDING. THE
TWO OLD TIME LORDS ARE UTTERLY CONFUSED
NOW, A CONFUSION WHICH IS ADDED TO
BY THE APPEARANCE OF THE TWO GUARDS, STASERS DRAWN,
WHO SUDDENLY BRUPT
INTO THEIR PATH
FOLLOWING LEELA)

GUARD: Stop! Stop, alien!

(BUT AS HE RAISES HIS WEAPON HE FINDS THAT HE CANNOT SHOOT WITHOUT HITTING THE OLD TIME LORDS.)

LEELA ESCAPES AGAIN, AND THE GUARDS MANAGE TO PUSH PAST THE TWO OLD MEN AND CONTINUE THE PURSUIT)

6. INT. CHANCELLOR'S ROOM.

SIDE OF HIS HEAD WITH THE HEEL OF HIS HAND - THEN WINCES. IT HURTS)

BORUSA: That's the alarm system.

THE DOCTOR: You mean you can hear it, too?

BORUSA: Yes.

THE DOCTOR: ~~Am I~~ I've a sort of ~~sound~~ ringing in your head. Listen. Can you hear it?79) 1 ordered...

(HE SEES THE DOCTOR)

Excellency backing bolt?
Your Excellency... you're ~~coming~~.

THE DOCTOR: Can't complain, Castellan.

KELNER: I'm very pleased to see it,
sir. Where's the girl?

ANDRED: She escaped.

KELNER: Escaped? )

BORUSA: The president ordered that she be expelled from the Citadel.
She got away.

THE DOCTOR: She can be dangerous.

KELNER: Well, sir, I'll take charge of the operation myself.

ANDRED: But...

KELNER: I'll make sure she's driven out. Come!

(THE CASTELLAN SWEEPS OUT, FOLLOWED BY ANDREW.)

Doc.: Ah! That's better

BORUSA WATCHES THEM GO, THEN TURNS THOUGHTFULLY TO THE DOCTOR.

THE ALARM NOISE STOPS)

BORUSA: What exactly are you playing at, Excellency?

82) F
CU BORUSA

THE DOCTOR: Playing at, Chancellor?

BORUSA: You know very well what I mean.

83) 2
CU DOCTOR

THE DOCTOR: I'd like a little more respect, if you don't mind.

84) 1
CU BORUSA

BORUSA: I thought that was a quality
you didn't admire.

85) 2
CU DOCTOR

THE DOCTOR: Ah, that was before. I'd have thought you, of all people would know me better.

86) 1
CU BORUSA

BORUSA: You could never deceive me, Doctor, when you were my student at the academy.
You haven't changed - and neither have I. But this is ~~gather~~ more than one of your student pranks, isn't it?

room if you haven't got a key. Well is there?.... There you are then.
QED..... What? Latin.... logic....
Latin.... logic....

that Bonus! Here A key can be lost or stolen. Therefore, you're the key? Palm print? Not so well simple. That's too simple.

(HE APPLIES BOTH HANDS AGAINST THE TAPESTRY)

No. Duplication would be possible.....
Retina Pattern?

(HE STARES AT THE TAPESTRY)

No. You're crazy.

(HE TRUDGES AROUND, HANDS IN POCKETS)

Ah! But you've got to admit you're very fond of the sound of your own voice.....

print - hmm! There's nothing more useless than a lock with a voice print - As Borwein always said -

(THERE IS A SLIGHT BUT EASILY DISCERNIBLE 'CLUNK' FROM BEHIND THE TAPESTRY.
THE DOCTOR CAUTIOUSLY APPROACHES THE TAPESTRY.
LIFTING IT HE TRIES THE DOOR. STILL LOCKED)

(GENTLY) "There is nothing more useless than a lock with a voice print".

while I'm guarding him, Castellan.

does CASTELLAN: Good. Because if anything happens to him, I would have to take over as President. And I have no wish to expose myself to the dangers of that position - for the moment.

out? → BODYGUARD: I understand perfectly,

IN WHICH IS A SIMPLE ROOFED STRUCTURE TO PROVIDE SHELTER.

LEELA AND RODAN ARE BROUGHT INTO THIS CLEARING BY THE MEN WHO CAUGHT THEM. AS THEY APPROACH THE SHELTER, TWO MORE SIMILAR PEOPLE, A MAN AND A WOMAN,
COME OUT.

THESE ARE HASBIN
(THE MAN) AND PRESTA
(THE WOMAN). THEY ARE PUSHED IN THE SAME WAY AS THE OTHERS.

THE LEADER OF THOSE WHO CAUGHT LEELA AND RODAN, ABLIF, PUSHES THEM FORWARD)

NESBIN: What's this?

ABLIF: We found them hiding in the bush, Nesbin.

NESBIN: Hiding?

ABLIF: Thought they were game at first. Jacko nearly put a spear through them.

NESBIN: Were they armed?

EP.3/TK 2 (cont)

ABLIF: This one was. Took us all to get it off her.

(SHOWS LEELA'S KNIFE)

NESBIN: She's very strange.

(NESBIN LOOKS UP.
THE CITADEL ARE GRINNING BROADLY)

NESBIN: Well! It speaks.

LEELA: I am not 'it'. I am Leela. And this is Rodan. Who are you and what do you want with us?

NESBIN: I'm Nesbin.

LEELA: The leader?

NESBIN: Yes. This is Presta, and this is Abilif. And what's more to the point, what do you want with us?

RODAN: We don't want anything with you.

PRESTA: It's a trick. They've come here to trap us.

EP.5/TK 2 (cont)

JASKO: Send them back to the Citadel, before they bring the guards on us.

RODAN: No! You can't do that. We're escaping from the Citadel.

NESBIN: Then you do want something from us.

RODAN: What?

NESBIN: Protection. Help. You can't survive out here without.

LEELA: Huh. I can survive anywhere.

(NESBIN LOOKS AT HER, SLIGHTLY AMUSED)

NESBIN: I can believe that. What are you?

LEELA: I am a warrior of the Sevateem.

PRESTA: An alien? That's dangerous. They'll surely come hunting for her.

NESBIN: We'll consider that in a moment. (TURNS BACK TO LEELA) Well, warrior, I dare say you could survive. But what about your friend here?

RODAN: What about me?

NESBIN: You're no alien. I doubt whether you've ever set foot outside the Citadel in your life before. Have you?

Fri. 3/TH 2 (cont.)

RODAN:

NESBIN: It's all different out here, you know. You have to fend for yourself.

RODAN: Fend?

NESBIN: That's right. How are you going to eat, for instance?

RODAN: I have some supplies look.

(SHE PULLS A HANDFUL OF TABLETS OUT OF HER POCKET OR POUCH AND HOLDS THEM OUT)

NESBIN: They won't last long. And when you've finished those what are you going to do?

RODAN: I ... I don't know.

NESBIN: I thought not. You wouldn't even know what you could eat, would you? Have you ever eaten flesh? Or fruit?

RODAN: No.

NESBIN: And shelter? Do you understand the need for shelter? No, of course you don't. You wouldn't last three days out here.

(RODAN LOOKS AS THOUGH
SHE IS GOING TO BURST INTO TEARS.)

ALL LELOS CONFIDENCE HAS GONE SLOWLY
SHE BENDS TO HER KNEES)

RODAN: I didn't realise ... Oh, I'm so tired ... and cold ...

NESBIN: You'd better get inside.

PRESTA: Are we going to let them stay, then?

NESBIN: We'll decide about that when we've heard their story. But this one needs rest before she'll be fit to tell us anything.

THE DOCTOR: ( ) Shall we start Chancellor, I must ask you again. I seek the Great Key of Rasillion.
Where is it? For the last time, I order you to tell me!

BORUSA: You have no authority under the constitution to order the Chancellor to do anything.

THE DOCTOR: The constitution is suspended. As of now.

BORUSA: This is monstrous, President.

(ON 1 + 2 CSO)

THE DOCTOR: Yes. But it's happening.
So do as you're told.

BORUSA: Never. I will not submit to these ... these creatures, I am a Time Lord, Cardinal ...

VARDAN: More? We have not begun yet. When we are certain that we have complete dominance over your people, we will reveal our requirements to you.

THE DOCTOR: Oh, good. And yourselves, ~~too~~, I hope? It's disconcerting talking to shimmering shapes.

I find it

VARDAN: The time is not right. First, you must complete the arrangements for the subjugation of your people.

Hold DOCTOR R

THE DOCTOR: Naturally, naturally. Well, Castellan, the Chancellor doesn't seem very keen to help. How about you?

CASTELLAN: ~~It is my duty is to serve the President,~~ <sup>Sir</sup> ~~I am prepared to want to~~ do whatever you wish.

THE DOCTOR: I thought you would be. You can start by making sure nobody tries to organise any sort of resistance. That's the last thing we want.

CASTELLAN: Yes, sir. I agree. Peaceful co-operation is a much more fruitful course.

(ON 1 + 2 CSO)

THE DOCTOR: hmm, Good, Why don't you regard yourself as acting vice-president, eh?

CASTELLAN: Thank you, sir.

THE DOCTOR: You'd better make me a list of all Time Lords with official positions, and let me know which ones you think are reliable.

CASTELLAN: Yes, of course, sir. Perhaps you'd like to have a list of known troublemakers at the same time.

LEELA: What's the matter?

THE DOCTOR: We've won again.

ANDRED: We've won?

THE DOCTOR: Yes. I've sent the invaders back home. Of course I'll need the Matrix to jury-rig a time loop, but -

LEELA: But we have fought no one but a few guards! How have we won?

THE DOCTOR: (WEARILY) It's not always like the Relief of Mafeking.

(CONT'D)

LEELA: Alright - alright.

THE DOCTOR: Don't shout at me.
Reve you thought of taking it up seriously?

LEELA: Taking what up seriously?

Ease out as they go

THE DOCTOR: Killing people. If you set your mind to it you could become quite proficient. Come on!
Let's see for ourselves.

KELNER: Yes, excellency./

THE DOCTOR: As Castellan, you're directly responsible for the security of Gallifrey in general and my safety in particular, aren't you?

KELNER: Yes, excellency.

(18 next)

THE DOCTOR: Well I don't think you're very good at it. Mind you, that's only my opinion. I'm only the President. Every Oligarchy gets the Castellan it deserves, eh Castellan?

(THE QUIVERING KELNER MAKES NO REPLY)

Never mind. Just clear the mess when you've a moment or two.

(KELNER BACKS OFF, HEAVING ALL OVER THE PLACE)

LEELA: Then it's over?

Hold action

THE DOCTOR: Yes.

ALDRED: Victory, your Excellency.

(HE MAKES A FORMAL SALUTE.
THE OTHER GUARDS AND TIME LORDS JOIN HIM)

THE DOCTOR: Indeed, it is. It has been a long fight but the future of Gallifrey has been assured.
